1. Operating Results

(1) Overview of Operating Results

In the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021, despite differences among sectors, conditions in the Japanese economy were challenging overall due to the impacts of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. Although there were signs of recovery at times, COVID-19 infections have recently been increasing, and the future outlook remains uncertain.

In the food industry, demand for home-cooked meals increased while demand for eating out declined significantly due to the government's request for people to refrain from going out and shortened operating hours at eating and drinking establishments following state of emergency declarations. Despite government economic stimulus measures contributing to a temporary earnings recovery in the restaurant industry, the outlook is once again uncertain.

In this business environment, the MEGMILK SNOW BRAND Group is pursuing initiatives to "Establish earnings bases in four business sectors (Dairy Products; Beverage & Dessert; Nutrition; and Feedstuffs & Seed) in accordance with the Group Medium-term Management Plan 2022.

In the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021, the Group undertook: (1) strategic expansion and further product mix improvement of yogurt, cheese, and other mainstay products, with focus on functionality; (2) simultaneous pursuit of scale expansion and profit generation through continuation of marketing investment in the nutrition business field; (3) strategic expansion and development of an earnings base in the seed products business; and (4) bolstering of the Group's overall strengths by making full use of the Group's management resources and by improving the productivity of the value chain.

Amid the spread of COVID-19, the Group also took steps to prevent COVID-19 infections among Group employees and endeavored to provide a stable supply of safe and reliable products to customers.

In addition, at a time of sharply decreased demand for milk and other products accompanying the suspension of school meals and declining demand for eating out, the Group engaged in raw milk processing, including increasing production of butter and non-fat powdered milk, in order to avoid the disposal of raw milk, as the Group performed its role of adjusting supply and demand.

As a result, in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021, consolidated net sales were ¥615,186 million (up 0.3% YoY), operating profit was ¥19,780 million (up 9.9%), ordinary profit was ¥21,662 million (up 10.1%) and profit attributable to owners of parent was ¥14,913 million (up 22.6%).

As of March 31, 2021, the MEGMILK SNOW BRAND Group comprised the Company, 32 subsidiaries, and 14 affiliates.

Operating results by business segment for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021, were as follows. Net sales by segment are sales to outside customers.

1) Dairy Products

This segment comprises the manufacture and sale of dairy products (cheese, butter, powdered milk), margarine, nutrition business products (functional foods and infant formula), and other products.

Net sales were ¥262,337 million (up 5.3% YoY), and operating profit was ¥13,675 million (up 18.3%).

The impact of COVID-19 on sales varied between sales channels. For instance, the increase in demand for home-cooked meals was a boon for household products, while on the other hand, the decline in demand for eating out created headwinds for commercial-use products.

In these circumstances, sales of butter were flat year on year due to continued efforts to ensure a stable supply. Sales of margarine declined due to the settling down of the dramatic increase in demand for home-cooked meals which started at the end of February 2020, despite proactive promotional activities. Sales of cheese increased slightly due to factors including the rise in demand for cheese as an at-home snack item, along with strong sales of natural cheeses such as Sakeru Cheese. Sales of functional food products grew owing to continued marketing investment in the e-commerce business which performed well amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

As a result of these developments, overall segment sales increased.

Operating profit increased due to factors including a decrease in fixed costs and higher sales volumes of household-use products.

2) Beverage & Dessert

This segment comprises the manufacture and sale of drinking milk, fruit juice beverages, yogurt, dessert, and other products.

Net sales were ¥274,487 million (down 3.3% YoY), and operating profit was ¥4,143 million (down 20.8%).

Sales of beverages (both milk-based and other beverages) decreased due to the decline in sales at convenience stores and other retailers in conjunction with the decline in opportunities for people to go out, despite the solid demand for home-cooked meals, as a result of COVID-19. Sales of yogurt declined despite efforts to expand sales through activities to promote the benefits of lactobacillus gasseri SP and lactobacillus helveticus yogurt (which are products with functional claims) because of the increasing variety of products with functional claims on the market. Dessert sales were strong, reflecting the launch of new products and other efforts to increase product appeal, along with the increase in demand for at-home meals.

As a result of these developments, overall segment sales decreased.

Operating profit declined, reflecting higher operational costs, a decrease in sales volumes due to the impact of changes in consumption trends attributable to COVID-19, and other factors, despite the positive effect of efficient use of promotional costs.

3) Feed and Seeds

This segment comprises the manufacture and sale of cattle feed, pasture forage/crop and vegetable seeds, landscaping, and other products.

Net sales were ¥43,349 million (down 0.8% YoY), and operating profit was ¥1,123 million (up 8.4%).

Overall segment sales decreased year on year, mainly because of a decline in sales volumes of pasture forage and crop seed and feedstuffs, along with a decline in sales in the landscaping business. Operating profit, on the other hand, rose mainly due to a decline in fixed costs.

4) Other

This segment comprises joint distribution center services, real estate rental, and other businesses.

Net sales were ¥35,012 million (down 4.5% YoY), and operating profit was ¥1,056 million (up 519.6%).

Operating profit increased significantly, due to the fact that the costs resulting from the fire at a merchandise warehouse of subsidiary SI System Corporation in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2020, were absent in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021.

(3) Future Outlook

Regarding the future outlook for the Japanese economy, as the country implements measures to prevent further spread of COVID-19 and the level of social and economic activity is increased, it is expected that the modest recovery trend will continue. However, as it is very difficult to predict when the pandemic will wind down, the situation will likely remain uncertain.

In the food industry, demand for home-cooked meals is expected to remain stable, but the prospect of a recovery in demand for eating out is uncertain, and the overall difficult situation is expected to continue.

For the Company, there is a risk that the sluggish demand for eating out due to COVID-19 could become prolonged, along with a risk of increases in various costs, such as raw materials costs, labor costs and distribution costs.

On the other hand, as people spend more time at home under the "new normal", new demand is expected to increase based on our offering of a variety of products that provide value and suggestions about how to consume these products.

In these circumstances, in accordance with our Group Medium-term Management Plan 2022, we consider the following three strategies to be key to our goal of establishing earnings bases in four business sectors in FY2022, the final year of the plan: 1) Pushing ahead with productivity reforms; 2) Resolute implementation of business structure reforms; and 3) Initiating a full-fledged renewal of our production structure.

In light of the above factors, in the fiscal year ending March 31, 2022, the Company forecasts net sales of ¥570,000 million; operating profit of ¥20,500 million (up 3.6% from the previous fiscal year); ordinary profit of ¥21,500 million (down 0.8%); and profit attributable to owners of parent of ¥12,500 million (down 16.2%).

Our net sales forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2022 is based on the "Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition". As a result, we have not included the percentage change from the actual net sales for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021, prior to the start of application of the above standard.

The net sales forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2022, calculated using the same standard as was used in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021 (the "previous standard"), would be ¥629,500 million (up 2.3% year on year based on the previous standard).

Our full-year net sales forecasts by segment are as follows: ¥240,000 million (an increase of 1.8% from the previous fiscal year under the previous standard) for Dairy Products, ¥254,000 million (up 2.7% under the previous standard) for Beverage & Dessert, ¥41,000 million (down 0.4% under the previous standard) for Feedstuffs & Seed, and ¥35,000 million (up 6.7% under the previous standard) for the "Other" segment. Our full-year net sales forecasts for the above segments are for sales to outside customers.

(4)Basic Policy on Profit Distribution and Cash Dividends for the Fiscal Year Ended March 31, 2021 and the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2022

The Company's basic policy on profit distribution is to establish financial soundness by generating profits, maintain capital efficiency by reinvesting in basic infrastructure that generates cash, and enhance shareholder returns.

The Company has set a consolidated dividend payout target of 20-30% and will strive to continuously pay stable dividends, giving comprehensive consideration to factors such as consolidated earnings and the financial situation.

In accordance with the above dividend policy, the Company has decided to pay cash dividends of ¥40 per share for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021, as originally planned.

The start date for cash dividend payments will be June 3, 2021.

Based on the above basic policy, and considering factors including the sales and profit forecasts as well as the outlook for financial condition, the Company plans to pay cash dividends of ¥50 per share for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2022.

2. Basic Policy on the Selection of Accounting Standards

The Group's policy is to prepare consolidated financial statements in accordance with Japanese accounting standards for the time being, taking into consideration comparability of consolidated financial statements over time and comparability between companies.

With regard to application of International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), the Group's policy is to respond appropriately, taking into account circumstances in Japan and abroad.
